that M. Laforest has left Berlin; I am told that a Prussian officer has been sent to me by the King of Prussia with a letter; for three days past I have been hearing about him, but I have not yet seen him.

October 1st. I start to-night at nine.

3d, Wtiraburg:

I reached Wtlrssburg yesterday,

5tlu The armies are in touch. We .shall soon have fighting. The King of Wtlrtemberg came here two days ago. He can't make heads or tails of what is going on. The Duke of Brunswick has written him a very pernicious letter, to the time of the German nationalistic; excitement, All my columns are marching, I start to-night for Barn-berg.

(To Marshal Soult.) I tirn debouching in Saxony with my whole army in three columns. You lead the right; half a day's march behind you is the corps of Marshal Ney, and one day's march behind you are 10,000 Bavarians; all of which totals more than 50,000 men, Marshal Bernadotte leads the centre; behind him Marshal Davout's corps is marching, with the greater part of the Reserve Cavalry and my Guard; which totals over 70,000 men, (Bernadotte) will debouch through Kronach. The 5th corps leads my left, and is followed by the corps of Marshal AugereAu. They will come through Ooburg and Saalfeld, and will make upwards of 40,000 men. The day you reach Ilof, the rent of the army will bo in line with you. I shall hold myself in general at the centre. With so great a preponderance in numbers, and ao closely concentrated, you will realize that my purpose in not to jump at; chances but to attack the enemy, wherever they choose to make a stand, with double their numbers.
